Table of Contents

Part 1: Fundamentals of Feline Practice Understanding the Cat and Feline-Friendly Handling The Cat-Friendly Practice Deciphering the Cat: The Medical History and Physical Examination Guidelines and Precautions for Drug Therapy in Cats Fluid Therapy Anaglesia Anesthesia and Perioperative Care Preventive Health Care for Cats Part 2: Feline Behavior Kitten Development Normal Behavior of Cats Kitten Socialization and Training Classes Behavioral History Taking Behavior Problems Behavioral Therapeutics

Part 3: Feline Nutrition The Unique Nutritional Requirements of the Cat: A Strict Carnivore Nutrition for the Normal Cat Nutritional Disorders Nutritional Management of Diseases Current Controversies in Feline Nutrition

Part 4: Feline Internal Medicine Cardiovascular Diseases Dental and Oral Diseases Dermatology Digestive System, Liver, and Abdominal Cavity Endocrinology Hematology and Immune-Related Disorders Musculoskeletal Diseases Neurology Oncology Ophthalmology Respiratory and Thoracic Medicine Toxicology Urinary Tract Disorders Part 5: Infectious Diseases and Zoonoses Infectious Diseases Feline Zoonotic Diseases and Prevention of Transmission

Part 6: Managing the Cat with Concurrent and Chronic Diseases Concurrent Disease Management Chronic Disease Management

Part 7: Special Considerations for the Senior Cat Managing the Senior Cat Evaluation of the Senior Cat with Weight Loss

Part 8: Feline Reproduction and Pediatrics Male Reproduction Female Reproduction Pediatrics

Part 9: The Feline Genome and Clinical Genetics A Short Natural History of the Cat and Its Relationship with Humans The Feline Genome and Clinical Implications Genetics of Feline Diseases and Traits

Part 10: Population Medicine Care and Control of Community Cats Population Wellness: Keeping Cats Physically and Bahaviorally Healthy

Librero Universo®